Trommus Drums

Since 1998, Trommus has contributed to the setting of new standards for drums used in the teaching of rhythmic. The drums have been developed by a teacher of rhythmic, focussing on sound, quality, and functionality. Based upon his own experience he set out to develop a drum that would meet the needs of the users, students as well as teachers. The result was a very sturdy drum that is easy to use by big and small, in a design that is easily recognized. The drums are inspiring and easy to work with, and are designed for storage within each other. They are handmade in Denmark using natural skin, and contain no harmful substances.
